A Taste of Haida Gwaii: Food Gathering and Feasting on the Edge of the World

“Definitely not ‘the church ladies’ cookbook’ – Carol (Copper Beech House guest)

“It’s a Bible. The Haida Gwaible.” — Katherine Govier

“Heavier than the Joy of Cooking.” — Anne Bayin

“Larousse of the North” — Isabel Beveridge

“Gorgeous. Not a cookbook. Not a coffee table book. More like therapy for everyone who wants to change their life.” — Maureen Colclough Bayless

You write such warm stories of connection; to place, to food, to animals, to ancestors. It is exactly what I am needing to open my mind and heart to this coming adventure. I have not known why I want to be on Haida Gwaii so very much, but you have given this urge some focus and excitement. Thanks for such a warm welcome to your piece of turf and surf.” — Maurgo Wilson (impending visitor)
